

Customers Say No Email Arrived.

Where Did It Fail?

4 stages to check, then when to call help

1

Email Never Triggered

The order never reached the point where an email fires, or the email is switched off or has no one to send to. Check this first.

2

Store Tried, Email Not Sent

Your store keeps a record of each attempt. It shows if the message went out or was skipped. Read it and you stop guessing.

3

Inbox Refused The Email

The message left your store, but the receiving inbox said no. Send from an address on your own domain, not a free mail one.

4

Email Landed In Spam

The inbox took it but filed it as junk, because it could not confirm the email came from you. Ask your host to check the proof is set.

When To Bring In A Developer

Paid orders that never move forward, or the same fault returning, need one. Hand over your test results and the record.
