

The Order Was Accepted.

Then Nothing Arrived.

4 stages of a backorder, from promise to fix

1

The Cart Says Yes

A buyer adds a large quantity of one part. Only a few units sit on your shelf, yet the order goes through with no warning.

2

Then The Buyer Waits

A notice that only says backordered gives no date to plan around. The buyer expects every unit this week and calls sales.

3

Your Team Hears Late

Stock drops below zero. The only signal is one email to your staff, and it goes to a mailbox that may not be read.

4

Fix It Around The Promise

Give a ship-by date from a confirmed supplier order. Set your own limit, and make sure someone reads the mailbox.
